Airdale Brewing Company June Newsletter

Dear Airdale ,

Summer is upon us and things are heating up! So what's going on in our world? Take a look...

- Petco Park debuts Airdale Afterburner
- New and Improved Distribution Page
- We are on Twitter
- Summer Seasonal Beer on the way
- San Diego International Beer Competition

May was a great month for us as we continue to see growth and expansion. June looks to contain more of the same.

I've been attending various beer dinners around town and writing about them on my blog. Check out the latest dinner at C-Level, on page 8 of the June issue of the San Diego Downtown News. Hopefully I'll be able to announce our own Airdale Beer Dinner soon. More to follow...

That's all for now, thanks for the support and ask for Airdale beers at your local drinking hole!

Cheers,

Tony Clarke

Airdale Takes Flight with Twitter!

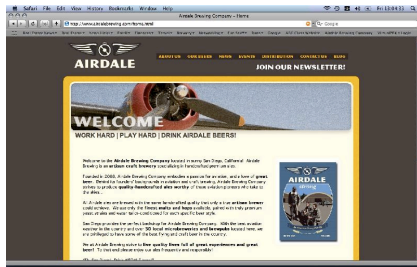

Follow us on Twitter!

Adapting with the times, we decided to give Twitter a shot last month, and we are glad we did. The microblogging site allows us to stay connected with our fans, provide real time updates on events and happenings, and is just plain FUN!

If your not a Twitter user, maybe you should check it out. You can find Airdale Brewing at user name @airdalebrewing, and you can find Tony's account at @airdalepanda.

Distro Page: New Look, Better Format

We are glad to say that a much needed re-organization of our Distribution Page is complete. You can now browse our accounts by geographic location and by draft beer style.

You can still link directly to each establishment for more info and we will be keeping our tap list updated weekly so you know exactly where to find your favorite Airdale brews!

Check it out for yourself: Distribution Page!

Our Next Seasonal Beer, Next Month!

In keeping with our creative spirit, we will be releasing our 2nd seasonal beer next month.

Our new creation will be commemorating the good times of summer. We have been working on a tasty creation that is cool and refreshing, while providing a ample amount of flavor and aroma.

We will be announcing its release early in July so keep your ears open for a release event next month.
